lot details

lot no344*description

An EMG hand-made gramophone in Mark IX case, but with Export Mark Xb horn, four-spring EMG soundbox, swan-neck tone-arm and spring motor, in typical oak case, the horn 29' (74cm) in diameter. Note: Said to have belonged to the co-Editor of The Gramophone and radio presenter Christopher Stone. Stone is known to have owned a full-size EMG on a pedestal base; this one, with its jointed horn, would have been more suitable for transporting to demonstrations away from home.
